From Your President

We've hit the heart of the cruising season. Yes, a whole lot of rain dampened June. Myron Shoaf told me that when you see corn plants turning yellow in the field it's a sign of too much rain. I noticed several fields along our scenic back roads sporting this color, and yet sweet corn is now being sold at our local farmers markets. Somehow we hang in there. As Mark Twain once said, "Go ahead and complain about the weather. It'll change." So far there have been some beautiful days in July. Hopefully, the summer will continue to blossom with blue skies and sunshine in our beautiful Western corner of Pennsylvania.

If you have not taken the Region's 1988 Corvette Chance Car out to an event to sell tickets yet, I highly recommend giving it a try. Select a place where there are lots of people - spectators more than classic car owners. This includes flea markets, shopping centers, store fronts, restaurants, etc. Be sure to ask permission first.

The car is a pleasure to drive. My son Regis and I took it out recently. It was his first ride in a Corvette and he really liked it. You may wonder how a large, 58 year-old like me fits in a Corvette. Well, I've discovered that entering is best bottom first, then legs. Exiting is pivot left, legs out, and a unique prying exercise with both arms as I stand up. Regardless, this is one very nice car. Thanks to all who are helping get it out.

-- Mark Jackson

Magic Number 25

Chester Robertson
VP Legislation

old and older to be judged at national events across the country. In most states, vehicles 25 years old and older receive benefits, such as special license plates, reduced taxes, no inspections, etc. Most insurance companies recognize the 25 year rule that gives special rates to our vehicles. At the federal level, legislation gives vehicles 25 years old the protection to be spared from the scrap pile.

If you have read the legislative news this year, you are aware Nevada and Maryland are two states that have introduced bills to change the magic number 25. In Nevada, a bill has been sent to the governor to be signed that will have all vehicles 1996 and newer to be tested for life. This means these vehicles will be tested after they become 25 years old. The Maryland bill was to increase the age of an antique to 30 years. This bill died as the legislature adjourned.

As the leader in the antique car world, AACA and all its members need to let our voices be heard across the country.

-- The Rummage Box

Twenty-five years is to collectible automobiles as one hundred years is to old collectible items outside the auto industry. They are both called antiques at that age. The AACA as a leading authority in our collector car community, has recognized 25 year old vehicles as antiques. We allow all vehicles 25 years

A Tribute to Glenn Frye

Photos by Clay Stoner

Antique auto friends from the Laurel Highlands and Western PA Regions remember Glenn Frye.

Fresh flowers were presented at Glenn's marker

For some unknown reason, when long-time Western PA Region member Glenn Frye passed away last fall there was no funeral or memorial service held for him that anyone knew of. Glenn was a friend to many members of both the Western PA and Laurel Highlands Regions of the AACA.

On Saturday, July 11, 2015, a group of Glenn's antique auto friends gathered for "A Tribute to Glenn Frye" organized by Art Long and the Laurel Highlands Region. Western PA

Region friends of Glenn were also invited to attend. The tribute consisted of a short scenic driving tour to Glenn's grave and a gathering at his grave side. Reverend Duane Slade gave some beautiful readings from the Bible along with the 23rd Psalm, which all present recited together. Friends then shared fond memories of Glenn. There were several antique Buicks in the long line of antique cars, which along with the tributes and prayers, would have made Glenn very happy.

Visitation Church Car Show Shines in Mount Pleasant

Several Western PA Region members helped out at the Visitation Church Car Show in Mount Pleasant on Sunday, July 5th. The show is coordinated by Region members Bob and Karla Doppelheuer and has become a vibrant fund raiser for their church. This is one of the few shows left in the area which is judged by a criteria point system rather than a “people’s choice” popularity method. Trophies were given in 13 classes. WPR members helping judge this year included Craig and Mark DeFloria, Denny Blank and Mark Jackson. The DeFlorias, Denny Blank, Charlie Schifano, Cris Detwiler and Bob Doppelheuer also brought their beautiful cars to show. Connie and Myron Shoaf were also on hand selling WPR Chance Car Tickets in a special booth. The weather was fantastic, as were the homemade pierogies and other great dishes served up by the Visitation Church food booth. The show filled the church parking lot and adjoining Frick Park with over 200 vehicles.

Just Thinking Again (Dangerous)

by Al Wirick

The other evening while coming out of South Greensburg and crossing a one lane bridge, I saw a beautiful mommy skunk and her baby cross the road directly in front of me and another drive coming from the other direction. We both stopped in time and they continued on their way. Just before this I saw two small bunnies and several deer.

The wildlife seems to be getting better as I have also seen two nearly half-grown black bears about 50 yards from my house.

Seeing the skunks made me think way back when I was about 17 years-old. We lived just above Twin Lakes Park. My uncle owned the farm that now belongs to the Schimezy family. One afternoon, next to our driveway was a mommy skunk and her baby. My dad had told me before that if you picked a skunk up by the tail it couldn't spray you. He was right, because I sneaked up behind the little one, picked it up – no spray. So I took it into our house to show mom. I don't know why she chased me out of the house. About the same time dad came home from work and I told him that I wanted to keep the baby skunk for a pet. At that time we had a Model A Ford pick up truck. Dad knew a man named Clark who he said would "de-skunk" him. We got in the pick up with me holding my skunk by the tail and went to see Mr. Clark.

Mr. Clark said to leave the baby skunk with him and come pick him up tomorrow afternoon. When we came to pick him up the next day Mr. Clark told me to dip the baby skunk's butt in flour three to four times a day for a week and that will help him to get better after the "de-skunking".

I had my pet skunk for about three years. Sometimes I would go out to Greengate Mall and walk around with him on my shoulder. People would shy away and I got asked to leave several times. But most of the time people would smile and wave. I had lots of fun with him.

I kept my pet skunk outside in a little pen next to our chicken house. Then I got up one morning and he was gone. I never saw him again, which made me very sad.

July's Car

Most of the members who contacted me knew that this was a British car. However, none of them were able to guess the year and make correctly. Bill Maurer came closest guessing a 1957 small series Austin, which looks similar.

Denny and Becky Blank stumped the experts this time with this impressive 1937 Wolseley. Wolseley cars were manufactured in England from 1901 until 1975. They dominated the British market during the Edwardian era up until World War I. (Source - Wikipedia)
